DAILY Team show that Afra Asianray Ghana LTD (Stand No. 1) got some of the biggest deals as all machines on display (as well as new orders on other digital finishing equipment promoted at the show) were sold out. These include the state-of-the-art Champion range of Automatic Paper Cup Packing Machines, Avir RollXpress Square Bottom Paper Bag Making Machines, and a host of other print finishing machines for digital, offset and flexo printing.

Another main exhibitor that recorded major sales is Docutech Ghana (Stand G04) – the Document Management System specialist and authorised reseller and distributor of Xerox, Duplo, Kofax, Equitrac, Lenovo, HP, Dell, and Newgen brands in Ghana. In particular, Docutech sold the Xerox PrimeLink C9070 Multifunction Printer used in printing PROPAK Ghana DAILY live at the show among other large format and printing finishing equipment on display aside its quality OEM consumables and media. In the same vein, top engineering firm with specialty in traceability - Drol Global Concept LTD (Stand A03) sold out its niche machine brands from markem-image.

No doubt, PROPAK Ghana will end on a high note as more business deals worth millions of Cedis will be consummated before the event rounds off today. As PROPAK Ghana DAILY Team presents DAY 2 pictorial highlights, Afroset Montgomery - PROPAK Ghana organiser has announced 2024 dates. PROPAK Ghana 2024 is therefore due to return to Accra International Conference Centre (AICC) Accra, Ghana from Tuesday 30th April to Thursday 2nd May 2024. So, keep the dates on your calendar!

MOHINANI LEADS IN GHANA'S PLASTICS, PACKAGING, AND ALLIED INDUSTRIES

Mohinani Team with PROPAK Ghana DAILY Susi Moore

With core business in manufacturing and packaging, Mohinani Group has rightly positioned itself in the centre of Ghana's revolution.

The Mohinani Group is a leading 2nd generation family business group of Indian descent, employing over 3000 people in its multi-sector operations across various industries. With activities ranging from manufacturing of packaging & plastics to trade & distribution in chemicals / polymers / consumer durables, amongst others, the group has a key position within its respective business segments across several countries on the African sub-continent from Ghana to Kenya, as well as in international trading and service centres such as Hong Kong, London and Mumbai. Key clients and suppliers rank amongst some of the largest and most credible companies in the world, such as LG Electronics, Exxon Mobil, Unilever, P&G & Coca Cola. Other businesses in the group include:

POLY PRODUCTS GHANA LIMITED
This is the Group's flagship company established in 1966 to manufacture Polyethylene (LLD/LD/HD) and Polypropylene film and shopping bags, as well as flexible packaging. The company has latest equipment of mono layer and multi-layer co-extruders as well as flexo / c.i. flexo / roto gravure printing machines and bag makers to ensure high-quality products that meet clients' extreme requirements. Key clients include major FMCG companies with local operations, such as Unilever Ghana and Nestle Ghana.

POLY SACKS GHANA LIMITED

The largest and most established woven sacks producer in Ghana supplying sacks in different shapes and sizes to various companies in agricultural and industrial sectors. The unit's investment in state-of-the-art extrusion tape lines, looms and printing machines ensure that the rigorous demands for laminated, printed, and plain sacks by the agricultural and industrial sectors are met.

POLY TANKS GHANA LIMITED

• Rotational Molding Division
Water is a scarce resource. Proper storage is an important aspect of water management. Poly Tanks is the oldest and largest producer of overhead water storage tanks in Ghana. The company was set up in 1992 to tackle the poor water storage system. Polytank continues to use pioneering technology to constantly upgrade its product range comprising a wide range of water storage, septic tanks, chemical drums, dustbins, traffic cones and kiosks, as well as rotationally moulded plastic water storage tanks.

• Rigid Packaging Division - a leading rigids packaging producer in Ghana

This unit produces thin walled printable containers, industrial and beverage crates, PET performs and bottles, lubricant containers and jerry cans, for supply to key manufacturers such as Coca Cola, Diageo and SAB to meet their packaging requirements. The investment in a wide range of state-of-the-art injection and blow molding equipment and tools enables world class packaging for world class companies in Ghana.

• Poly Kraft Ghana LTD

Established in 1994, PolyKraft caters to the increasing demand of the agro and industrial sectors within domestic and regional markets and supplies a wide range of customised products to customers - offering B, C, E flute, 3 and 5 ply corrugated carton boxes produced on its high-quality corrugators as well as printers.

SPECIAL FEATURE ARTICLE - PROPAK GHANA 2023 EXHIBITOR'S FUNCTION

“THANK YOU FOR HAVING CONFIDENCE IN US”

- AFROCET MONTGOMERY

After a very busy second day, PROPAK Ghana organiser - AfroCet Montgomery hosted exhibitors to a Thank You Cocktail Function at the Conference Arena - set in a tranquil, cool music ambience to relax nerves and to specially express gratitude to them for having confidence in their ability to host a successful show.

With much to eat and drink, the function also provided exhibitors opportunities to mingle with fellow colleagues, share banter, memories and ideas in a setting that essentially eases tension after a hard day's work. PROPAK Ghana DAILY Team was there to capture memorable images:

SPECIAL FEATURE ARTICLE GENERAL PARTICIPANTS' VOX POP

Galdi is very excited to be at the first PROPAK Ghana and hopes to meet some potential customers.

© Mohammed Maanaoui and Susi Moore

Ghana Printers & Paper Converters Association (GPPCA) vision is to be an association whose positive sensitivity to both the human and marketing needs of the industry will be second to none. Its mission is to provide quality products and services to both their internal and external customers by always meeting and even exceeding their members' needs and expectations.

KPMG's expectation of PROPAK Ghana this year is to meet new people and to see how other businesses operate. As business consultants, KPMG says industry players need to know how the packaging and the printing industries are doing in order to position themselves for success. "We've met industry players and we've met regulatory players, and we are really excited. PROPAK Ghana 2023 has really exceeded our expectations".

PPM's Susi and Samantha Moore, who also represent the Institute of Packaging South Africa, met up with Charles Diplo, of Packaging Distribution Consulting, representing Association Des Professionnels De L'embellage en Cote D'Ivoire at the Institute of Packaging Ghana (IOPG) stand, and discussed ways to collaborate in order to make the African Institutes and Associations stronger.

Timely Bags - Romeo D Lartey with WHERE To Print magazine/ PROPAK DAILY Publisher - Joju ADEKANBI. According to Mr. Lartey, "I've been following WHERE To Print for more than 2years and the information I receive is always invaluable. Thank you very much".

...with my very good friend!

SPECIAL FEATURE ARTICLE GENERAL PARTICIPANTS' VOX POP

Elorm Amadotor from Type Company LTD and Nathaniel Amo from Colorbar Digital Press stopped by PPM stand to chat about how Ghana packaging and print industries can grow and develop with stakeholders' collaborations.

Everpack was born in the heart of Ghana in the year 1998. Ever since the business started, the company has been devoted to creating innovative and high-quality products. It is a family owned business, so trust and loyalty towards customers are found within the structure of the company. As a specialist in paperware and plastic disposable products, Everpack has over 350 well established engineers and employees and has grown to be one of the market leaders in the region. Everpack's Clement Tettum says PROPAK Ghana is a good place to network with current and new customers.

BOBST Area Sales Manager, Africa - Mr. Oshiole Imoesi-Aliu came visiting WHERE TO Print magazine/ PROPAK DAILY Stand. Quite pleasing to meet again in Accra after Nairobi at PROPAK East Africa in March this year. We discussed further Bobst's new one BARRIER PrimeCycle innovative solution for sustainable packaging.

Packaging students (both undergraduate and postgraduate) came visiting PROPAK Ghana 2023 and very are delighted to be at the show to experience and learn all things Packaging.
